11.4% of Massachusetts households can’t confidently predict where their next meal is coming from.

Why are nutritious meals and snacks important for children and adults?

Research has shown that there is a strong relationship between nutrition, health and learning. Your community is in a special position to offer healthy meals to children, in safe and supportive settings.

Older or disabled adults can have limited ability to prepare or access healthy meals. Providing meals and snacks can help them maintain their independence and quality of life.

Programs Serving Children

Child Care Centers
CACFP provides nutritious meals and snacks to infants and children as a regular part of their day care program. A variety of public or private nonprofit child care centers, such as Head Start and for-profit centers that serve lower income children may be eligible.

Family Day Care
CACFP provides reimbursement for meals and snacks served to small groups of children receiving nonresidential day care in private homes, including informal child care provided by relatives. CACFP serves low-income areas and can make the cost of day care more affordable for many lower income families.

Emergency Shelters
Residents 18 and younger who receive their meals at an emergency shelter are automatically eligible for free meals. There are no application forms for families to fill out. All reimbursable meals are served in group settings, at no cost to the child or to the child’s family.

At Risk Afterschool
Afterschool programs that participate in CACFP give children and teenagers the nutrition they need, and draw them into constructive activities that are safe, fun, and filled with opportunities for learning.

Program Serving Adults

Adult Day Care Centers
Adult day care centers receive payments for serving nutritious meals to adults who are 60 or older, or who are physically or mentally impaired to the extent that limits their independence and ability to carry out activities of daily living.

CACFP meals give adults the nutrition they need as a routine part of their program. CACFP reimbursements help to lower the cost of serving meals at centers that provide adult day care services to meet the needs of older and/or functionally impaired adults.
