“What should good student writing at this grade level look like?”

The answer lies in the writing itself.

The Writing Standards in Action Project uses high quality student writing samples to illustrate what performance to grade level standards looks like—in action.

STANDARDS-BASED COMMENTARY
The student writing sample that follows includes standards-based commentary. The commentary found in this column describes how the writing meets the standards in the Massachusetts Curriculum Framework for English Language Arts and Literacy (2017) and other content frameworks when applicable.

Understanding the Standards-Based Commentary

1. Grade-specific standards addressed are:
• Listed in the column to the right of student work by strand, grade, and number (or number and letter, where applicable)
• Marked by a colored block with a letter code, also in the column to the right of student work
EXAMPLE: A

2. Colored arrow blocks beneath each standard in the right column:
• Are of the same color and letter code as the block that marks the standard being addressed
• Mark standards-based commentary related to the standard being addressed
• Appear in alphabetical order
EXAMPLE: A1

3. Corresponding colored arrow blocks within the text:
• Set off sections of student work to which commentary applies
• Do not necessarily appear in alphabetical order—but where evidence of a particular standard exists
EXAMPLE: (begin) A1 section A1 (end)
Instructional Practices:
The teacher used the following practices:

- Discussion of how movie writers and producers promote smoking through the characters
- Screening of the Smoke Screeners video
- Instruction in the use of research and examples to support an argument

Assignment Description:
After discussion of how movie writers and producers promote smoking through the behavior of characters in their movies, students viewed the video, Smoke Screeners. The video provides a picture of the entertainment industry’s use of smoking on-screen. Then the teacher asked the students to write a one-page letter to ask movie directors or studios to limit or remove from their movies depictions of characters smoking. The writer of the letter included here chose to view the movie, The Benchwarmers, and then wrote to its producer to object to the portrayal of smoking in the movie.

Dear Mr. Sandler,

Did you know that every cigarette a person smokes takes seven minutes off their life? I mention this because I just watched the movie, Benchwarmers, and I noticed that Carlos smoked. Why did you feel the need to have one

Writing. Grade 6, Standard 1:

A W.6.1.a
Introduce claim(s) and organize the reasons and evidence clearly in paragraphs and sections.

A1 A1 Examples: 1
The writer opens the piece with a fact from which the rest of the letter flows (Did you know that every cigarette a person smokes takes seven minutes off their life?).

A2 A2 Examples: 1
The writer introduces the stimulus for writing (I just watched the movie, Benchwarmers, and I noticed Carlos smoked.).
of the characters smoke? Did you think that would make him look cool? Did you think that would make him look older?

It did neither of those things. As a matter of fact, I think it made him look stupid and not very cool. Especially when he put out a cigarette on his tongue.

If I were producing a movie, I would want my characters to be strong, healthy and smart. I would not have any smokers in my movies for many reasons. The first reason is it sets a bad example for children. An estimated 450,000 Americans die each year from tobacco related disease. In fact,

Writing. Grade 6, Standard 1:

A3 A3 Examples: 1 - 2
The writer provides a clear claim (I would not have any smokers in my movies for many reasons.) made more powerful by previous debunking of opposing points of view (As a matter of fact, I think it made him look stupid and not very cool. Especially when he put out a cigarette on his tongue.)

A4 A4 Examples: 1
The writer supports the claim with clearly organized reasons and associated evidence.

B W.6.1.b
Support claim(s) with clear reasons and relevant evidence, using credible sources and demonstrating an understanding of the topic or text.

B1 B1 Examples: 1
The writer supports the claim with clear reasons (The first reason is it’s bad for children... Another reason not to promote smoking is it ages and wrinkles your skin... Lastly, smoking is a very expensive habit...).

The writer supports the reasons with relevant evidence (An estimated 450,000 Americans die each year from tobacco related disease. In fact, tobacco use causes many different types of cancers such as lung, throat, mouth, and tongue... A heavy smoker spends thousands of dollars a year on cigarettes.).
tobacco use causes many different types of cancers such as lung, throat, mouth, and tongue. Another reason not to promote smoking is it ages and wrinkles your skin. Who wants to look 75 if you are only 60? It turns your teeth yellow and may lead to gum disease and tooth decay. Lastly, smoking is a very expensive habit. A heavy smoker spends thousands of dollars a year on cigarettes. I can think of better things to spend money on.

C W.6.1.c
Use words, phrases, and clauses to clarify the relationships among claim(s) and reasons.

C1 Examples: 1
The writer bolsters the claim with effective rhetorical questions that acknowledge opposing views and highlight the significance of the claim (Did you think that would make him look cool? Did you think that would make him feel older?).

C2 Examples: 1 · 2
The writer writer uses appropriate words and phrases to establish the logical connection between the claim and the reasons (If I were producing a movie... I would not have any smokers... The first reason... Another reason... Lastly).

D W.6.1.e
Provide a concluding statement or section that follows from the argument presented.

D1 Examples: 1
The concluding statement addresses the audience directly and provides the call to action that follows from the argument (So Mr. Sandler, I urge you to take smoking out of all future movies you produce.).

D2 Examples: 1
The writer also offers a recommendation in the concluding statement (Instead of having your characters smoke have them do healthy things.).
So Mr. Sandler, I urge you to take smoking out of all future movies you produce. Instead of having your characters smoke have them do healthy things. That will set a positive influence for children instead of poisoning their minds. Thanks for reading my letter. I hope you agree with my opinion.

Sincerely,

P.S. I love your Chanukah song.
Language. Grade 6, Standard 3:

L.6.3.a
Maintain appropriate consistency in style and tone while varying sentence patterns for meaning and audience interest.

H Examples: 1
The writer mixes sentences of varying lengths and types. This contributes to the letter’s persuasive style. For example, use of a shorter sentence after a series of larger, parallel rhetorical questions adds emphasis to the main idea (Did you think that would make him look cool? Did you think that would make him look older? It did neither of those things.).

I Examples: 1 · 2 · 3
The writer includes information from The Benchwarmers (I noticed that Carlos smoked… he put out a cigarette on his tongue,) and specific support from tobacco-related Health Fact Sheets (tobacco causes many different types of cancers… wrinkles your skin… turns your teeth yellow) to strengthen the argument against smoking in future movies.
