During testing, students were provided additional tool kit pieces to answer test items that are not released.