COORDINATED PROGRAM REVIEW REPORT

SEVEN HILLS CHARTER SCHOOL

OVERVIEW OF REVIEW PROCEDURES

As one part of its School and School District Accountability System, the Department of Education oversees local compliance with education requirements through the Coordinated Program Review System. All reviews will include selected requirements in education special under the federal Individuals with Disabilities Education Act, 20 U.S.C. Section 1400 et seq. (IDEA-97) and M.G.L. Chapter 71B (Chapter 766 of the Acts of 1972) and certain federal civil rights requirements under Titles I and II of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, and Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, together with related state requirements under M.G.L. Chapter 76, Section 5 (Chapter 622 of the Acts of 1971). Other monitoring activities in the areas of the state's Transitional Bilingual Education law (M.G.L. Chapter 71A), Title I, Safe and Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act, the Perkins Vocational and Technical Education Act, and Nutrition Programs and Services are conducted in some districts during these Coordinated Program Review procedures. The selected school districts for 2000-2001 were notified by the Commissioner of Education in April 2000 of scheduled visits and were encouraged to implement self-assessment activities prior to the arrival of the Department's visiting team.

Coordinated Program Review Elements

Team: Depending upon the size of a school district and the number of program areas to be reviewed, a team of approximately two to eight Department staff members conducts a Coordinated Program Review over two to seven days in a school district or charter school.

Scope: Approximately seventy school districts and charter schools are scheduled to receive visits in school year 2000-2001. All school districts and charter schools in the Commonwealth are monitored through the Department's Coordinated Program Review system on a six-year cycle with an additional mid-cycle special education follow-up visit.

Content: The Program Review criteria encompass the required elements for the specific program areas. In the case of special education, the elements selected for the FY 2001 reviews contain, at a minimum, those required by the federal Office for Special Education Programs (OSEP) and revised requirements included under IDEA-97 as described in the Department's Special Education Advisories. Additionally, the 2000-2001 reviews incorporate updated state special education requirements as adopted by the Board of Education and effective on September 1, 2000 and further amended by the state legislature in the FY '01 budget and subsequent Emergency Regulations of the Board. The Program Review compliance criteria selected in all of the regulated program areas are those that are most closely aligned with the goals of the Massachusetts Education Reform Act of 1993, and intended to promote high standards and achievement for all students.

Report: The Department's report is based on a review of written documentation and data regarding the operation of the district's programs, together with information gathered through the following Department program review methods:

- Interviews of administrative, instructional and support staff across all grade levels.

- Interviews of parent advisory council (PAC) representatives and other interviews as requested by persons from the general public.
- Student record reviews in the program areas of special education, Transitional Bilingual Education, and Perkins vocational programs. A sample of student records is selected by the Department. Student records are first examined by local staff, whose findings are then verified by the onsite team using standard Department student record review procedures to make determinations regarding the implementation of procedural and programmatic requirements. Parents of students with disabilities whose files were selected for the record review were sent a survey that solicited information regarding their experiences with the district's implementation of special education programs, related services and procedural requirements.
- Classroom and facilities observation. A sample of instructional classrooms and other school facilities used in the delivery of programs and services are visited to determine general levels of compliance with program requirements.
- Interviews, student record reviews, and observations in the case of collaborative programs and services. Where the district is a member of a collaborative approved by the Department of Education and the district serves as a site for any programs or services operated by the collaborative, interviews, student record reviews and classroom and facility observations are conducted.

Response: An Executive Summary and detailed findings for each program area describe determinations about the implementation status of each requirement (criterion) reviewed. The findings note those criteria the implementation of which the team found to be commendable. Where criteria are found not to be fully implemented, the local district or charter school must propose corrective actions to bring those areas into compliance with the respective statutes or regulations. Districts are encouraged to incorporate the corrective action into their district and school improvement plans, including the district professional development plan.

The Department of Education believes that the Coordinated Program Review process is a positive experience and that the Final Report should be seen as a helpful planning document for the continuing development of programs and services in the school district or charter school.

REPORT INTRODUCTION

A four member Massachusetts Department of Education team visited Seven Hills Charter School during the week of January 29, 2001 to evaluate the implementation of selected criteria in the program areas of special education, civil rights requirements, Title I, Safe and Drug Free Schools and Communities Act and Nutrition Programs and Services. The team appreciated the opportunity to interview staff and parents, to observe classroom facilities and to review the program efforts underway in the district. The onsite team would like to commend the following areas that were brought to the attention of the Department and that the team believes have a significant and positive impact on the delivery of educational services for students enrolled in the Seven Hills Charter School. These areas are as follows:

There is a high degree of cooperation, respect and dedication to quality education exhibited by staff and school administrators at the Seven Hills Charter School. This results in an effective child centered approach by all special program staff and regular education teachers acting as a team to provide supports to all students.

The charter school has implemented an extensive behavioral intervention program for all students who demonstrate behavioral concerns. The behavioral program includes individual behavioral plans for each identified student, positive incentive programs, mentoring of individual students by teachers, strategic time outs, scheduled adjustment counseling and crisis intervention and counseling.

The charter school has an exemplary array of support services for limited English proficient (LEP) students. The school has developed a system of language assessments of English language proficiency that ensures accurate identification of students without over-testing of the students. The English as a Second Language (ESL) program provides in-class, pullout, and after school supports to LEP students. The school is also in the process of training teachers in the use of the Santa Clara protocols, which foster teaching techniques that allow LEP students to participate in the regular education classroom to the maximum extent possible.

A specific commendation is given to the SFDFSCA's Health Advisory council. The council membership, which consists of parents, staff, administrators and community members, is active and ambitious in its endeavors and is involved in every stage of the SFDFSCA grant process. The members are instrumental in assisting the health coordinator in effective program planning efforts. The cultural values of the school, which promote respect, responsibility and community involvement provide a solid foundation for an effective HAC and for the implementation of the Safe and Drug Free School and Community Act Grant program goals, objectives and activities. Under the HAC's guidance, the SFDFSCA program's goals and objectives have become part of the daily life of the school. This in turn supports the school's commitment to improved academic performance for their students.

Some of the areas of commendation noted above are additionally stated within the body of the Department's report under the respective compliance criteria.

The Department is submitting the following Coordinated Program Review Report containing findings pursuant to this onsite visit. This report was prepared as a result of the review of extensive written documentation and data regarding the operation of the District's programs, together with information gathered from the following Department program review methods:

- Interviews of six administrative staff.
- Interviews of 32 teaching and support services staff across all levels.
- Interviews of six parent advisory council (PAC) representatives, and other interviews as requested by persons from the general public.

- Student record reviews: A sample of 15 student records was selected by the Department. Student records were first examined by local staff, whose findings were then verified by the onsite team using standard Department of Education student record review procedures to make determinations regarding the implementation of procedural and programmatic requirements.
- Parent surveys: 15 parents of students with disabilities were sent surveys that solicited information regarding their experiences with the district's implementation of special education programs, related services and procedural requirements. Four of these parent surveys were returned to the Department of Education for review by the onsite team.
- Classroom and facilities observation: A sample of four instructional classrooms and other school facilities used in the delivery of programs and services was visited to determine general levels of compliance with program requirements.

The report includes findings in the program areas reviewed organized under nine components directly related to teaching and learning. These components are listed in the Executive Summary on the following pages. The findings in each program area describe determinations by the team about the implementation status or "Rating" of each criterion reviewed. The findings note those criteria that were found by the team to be substantially "Implemented" or implemented in a "Commendable" manner. (Refer to the "Definition of Terms" section of the report.) Where criteria were found to be either "Partially Implemented" or "Not Implemented," the district or charter school must propose to the Department corrective actions to bring those areas into compliance with the related statute or regulation. In some instances the team may have rated a requirement as "Implementation in Progress" or "Implemented" and has made specific comment on the district's implementation methods that also may require response from the district or charter school.

Districts are expected to incorporate the corrective action into their district and school improvement plans, including the district professional development plan.

COORDINATED PROGRAM REVIEW REPORT

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

SEVEN HILLS CHARTER SCHOOL

The following information synthesizes the findings for specific program criteria included in the Coordinated Program Review as they respond to essential questions that the Department has formulated for each of the major component areas of the report. Note that a more detailed discussion of the Onsite Team's findings that are represented in this Executive Summary, together with the specific legal standards for each program area included in this review, follows this summary.

Component I: Assessment of Student Progress

Has the District implemented an assessment system that uses appropriate instruments, conducted according to the specified timelines and covering the appropriate content areas to determine instructional needs of students?

The district has assessment procedures in place to determine eligibility of students for special education and Title I services. Appropriate tests and evaluation materials and information from a variety of sources are used.

Services for special education eligible students are provided in conformance with the principle of placement in the least restrictive environment. Student assessments and Team meeting are completed within required timelines. Special education eligible students are re-evaluated every three years and their IEPs are reviewed annually as required. The charter school has begun to implement the new requirements regarding evaluating a student who is suspected of having a specific learning disability. The charter school has a commendable policy to send all assessments to parents 5 days prior to the Team meeting without requiring a parent request for the information. The required educational status assessment, however, is not completed prior to the team meeting, but instead, is completed at the meeting. All special education teams consider how each student will participate in state and district assessments. Most Teams are composed of the appropriate Team members; however, procedures have not been developed to ensure the attendance at Team meetings of students who are 14 years or older. Although interviews indicated that the school funds independent evaluation as required, no written documentation was provided to the Department's onsite team to indicate how parents are notified of their rights to participate in an income eligible program for free or reduced cost independent evaluations. Although, progress reports are provided to parents as often as parents of non-disabled students are informed of their progress, the written information in the progress reports does not always clarify the student's progress toward meeting the IEP goals and information on the extent to which such progress is sufficient to enable the student to achieve the goals by the end of the year is not consistently reported.

The charter school effectively uses assessment information to determine eligibility for Title I services. MCAS testing is used to measure students' proficiency in academic areas; the results are analyzed and used to determine the program needs of students most at risk.

Component II: Student Identification and Program Placement

Has the District followed procedures for student identification and placement into the program according to the criteria specified in regulations?

The charter school has procedures for the identification and placement of students eligible for special education, English as a Second Language and Title I services. The school is commended for its identification procedures and program placements for students with limited English proficiency.

Screening to identify children who need special education supports is conducted for all students in kindergarten. The school needs to outreach to families within the school community to inform them of the process by which they may refer a child for an evaluation of special education needs. Special education Teams are developing IEPs with all of the required elements with the exception of placement information. The school is not using the most current placement form and is not consistently providing all of the required information. Teams consistently select the least restrictive program possible for students. In addition, Teams are not using extended evaluations appropriately. Record reviews indicated that extended evaluations have been used to allow additional time to complete the required assessments for re-evaluation. All IEP services are generally provided once consented to by the parent; however, the school has not implemented the correct procedures to notify parents when the lack of related services personnel delayed the provision of services to some students.

The district has procedures to ensure that all students who are suspected of being limited English proficient (LEP) are assessed by qualified staff. The assessment is thorough without subjecting the students to over-testing. The school provides a commendable program for LEP students consisting of in-class, pullout and after school supports for students with limited English proficiency. The school provides teaching techniques that allow LEP students to participate in the regular education classrooms to the maximum extent possible. All students have access to all regular education programs in the charter school.

Multiple criteria are used to identify students who are eligible for Title I support. Students are identified in consultation with parents, administrators and pupil services personnel to ensure that students who are most at risk of failing are identified and given support services.

Component III: Parental Involvement

Has the District ensured that parents are notified, in the appropriate language, and are involved in decisions regarding their children's programs and services?

The charter school ensures that parents are notified in the appropriate language and are involved in decisions regarding their children's programs and services in the special education and Safe and Drug Free Schools programs. The Title I program does not have a School-Parent Compact and does not annually assess the effectiveness of parent involvement as required. General information and materials are published in languages other than English as needed by families in the school community.

Parents of special education eligible students receive required notices regarding referral for evaluation, parental consent for evaluation and services, Team meetings, and procedural safeguards and parents' rights. Communications with parents are in both English and the primary language of the home.

All Title I policies and procedures regarding parental involvement are in writing and available and distributed to Title I parents in a language and form that is understandable. Materials and training is provided to Title I parents to enable them to improve their children's achievement. Parents of Title I students have an opportunity to be represented on the School Council.

The charter school's Health Advisory Council is extremely active and ambitious in its endeavors. The members are instrumental in assisting the health coordinator in creatively strategizing effective program planning. The charter school coordinates its programs and projects with community-wide efforts and other federal and state programs to achieve its goals for drug and violence prevention. There is strong parent involvement in the Health Advisory Council and the school offers prevention education activities to promote the involvement of parents. The school has been unsuccessful in its efforts to provide prevention education to parents; however, there is a strong commitment to parent involvement and the staff continue to develop new initiatives to include them as partners in their children's education.

Component IV: Curriculum and Instruction

Does the District hold all students to high expectations and standards and ensure that programs are designed to maximize student performance within regular education and are implemented according to the specific regulatory requirements with respect to learning time, class size, staffing ratio, and age spans? Has the District provided for coordination across program areas?

The district is strongly committed to holding all students to high expectations and standards and to ensuring that programs are designed to maximize student performance within regular education. The district has aligned its general curriculum with the Massachusetts Curriculum Frameworks and ensures that all students with disabilities have access to the general curriculum. The charter school exceeds requirements for length of the school year and for structured learning time. All students have access to all extracurricular activities.

The special education program meets all requirements regarding class size, staff-to-student ratios and instructional group age spans. A full continuum of services and all necessary specialized materials and assistive technology are provided for special education students.

Title I services are designed to assist students to meet the expectations and standards of the regular education curriculum. There is a process for coordination of Title I services with the instructional and assessment programs provided in regular education. Title I students are provided opportunities to participate in all activities which may be funded through the integration of district resources. The majority of Title I services are provided through a pullout model.

Safe and Drug Free Schools Community Act activities are integrated with other federal programs under IASA and Goals 2000 as required.

Component V: Student Support Services

Has the District ensured that all students have equal opportunity and access to programs or services?

The charter school ensures that all students have equal opportunity and access to programs and services. Students with disabilities and those receiving Title I services have equal access to all aspects of school life, including educational, nonacademic, extracurricular and ancillary programs. The district provides related services (e.g. speech therapy, occupational therapy and physical therapy) in all cases where they have been recommended by the student's special education Team.

The school has established a comprehensive program to provide behavioral interventions for all students whose behavior impedes their learning or the learning of others. It has published and disseminated its student code of conduct and statement of due process rights that apply to all students and has also published the additional procedural safeguards afforded to students with disabilities. The school needs to add to its code of conduct the disciplinary measures that may be imposed upon students who harass or discriminate.

District staff, students and parents were notified at the beginning of the school year that all programs and activities of the school are offered without regard to race, color, sex, religion, national origin, sexual orientation and disability. Not all major publications of the school, however, contain this required notice of nondiscrimination. Although the school recently notified staff of the civil rights coordinators for the school, parents and students were not similarly notified. The school has written grievance procedures covering all required areas for staff, students and parents. Counseling materials and activities are free from bias and stereotypes.

The Title I program is supplementing other services that students receive. Additional student assistance is provided through teacher-parent conferences for any students not meeting the standards to discuss what the school and parent will do to help the student and additional assistance for the student at the school or elsewhere in the community.

Component VI: Faculty, Staff and Administration

Does the District maintain certified staff in the specific program areas, provide supervision of aides and tutors, and provide ongoing professional development? Does the district implement an effective system of program leadership and oversight that fosters high standards and performance expectations for all students and staff consistent with the goals of applicable federal and state requirements and Education Reform Act of 1993?

The charter school maintains appropriately certified teachers in both the Title I and special education programs. Two of the special education related services providers contracted by the school, however, are not certified in their area of instruction by the Department of Education. Paraprofessionals within the special education program are appropriately trained and under the supervision of an appropriately certified professional; however, paraprofessionals in the Title I program are not always under the direct supervision of, nor in close proximity to a certified instructor when providing tutorial services to students.

The charter school provides professional development activities annually for staff including confidentiality of student records, state and federal special education requirements, methods of collaboration among teachers, accommodating diverse learning styles of all students and training in the provision of pre-referral services within regular education. In addition, the charter school provides in-service training for all staff regarding civil rights responsibilities annually at the beginning of the school year. The school, however, needs to ensure that staff who are employed after the school year begins are also provided with this training.

The school's employee recruitment activities are aimed at reaching all groups. Job application forms and interview questions conform to requirements regarding pre-employment inquiries of a candidate's race, ethnicity, age, marital status and parent status, national origin, physical attributes, religious background, health, health history and physical or mental condition and personnel policies and procedures are free of discrimination and bias.

Component VII: School Facilities

Does the District maintain facilities that are conducive to learning, facilitate integration, and provide equal access and opportunity for students to achieve?

The charter school facility is entirely accessible to students with disabilities. The charter school, however, does not provide instructional spaces for Title I tutoring or special education related services that are comparable to the instructional spaces provided for other students in the school. Title I tutorial services are provided in offices that are too small for the instruction occurring there and that are located in areas of the facility segregated from other academic classrooms. In addition, special education related services are provided at the end of a hallway in front of an active elevator.

Component VIII: Program Plan and Evaluation

Does the District have written program plans that are evaluated according to specific regulatory requirements? Do parents have opportunities for input on needs, program implementation, evaluation, and improvement?

The Title I and Safe and Drug Free Schools programs determine the types of services and program to be provided based on an annual needs assessment and data analysis. The Title I program is evaluated annually and changes are implemented that reflect the recommendations of the program evaluation. The advisory council for the SDFCS program informally evaluates the program to assess its progress toward achieving its goals. Although staff stated that the special education program has been evaluated, the school did not provide any written documentation to verify this.

The charter school parent company has a process to ensure that all instructional and educational materials are reviewed to identify and eliminate simplistic and demeaning generalizations, lacking intellectual merit on the basis of disability, race, color, sex, religion, national origin and sexual orientation. The parent company also has a process in place to examine and remedy policies and programs that discriminate or limit educational access.

Component IX: Record keeping

Does the District maintain required records and documentation for each specific program area?

All required records and documentation are maintained for the special education and Safe and Drug Free Schools Community Act programs. Although Title I documentation is available to verify that the charter school is in compliance with comparability, the school is not maintaining an appropriate log for each split-funded staff member to verify the time each staff spends on Title I activities.

DEFINITION OF TERMS
FOR THE RATING OF EACH COMPLIANCE CRITERION

Commendable	Any requirement or aspect of a requirement implemented in an exemplary manner significantly beyond the requirements of law or regulation.
Implemented	The requirement is substantially met.
Implementation in Progress	The criterion includes one or more new state special education requirements that became effective on September 1, 2000. The district has substantially implemented any pre-September 1, 2000 requirements also included under the criterion and is currently engaged in staff training and/or is beginning implementation practices for new requirements which the Department's onsite team anticipates will result in substantial compliance by the end of the current school year.
Partially Implemented	The requirement, in one or several important aspects, is not entirely met.
Not Implemented	The requirement is totally or substantially not met.
Not Applicable	The requirement does not apply to the school district or charter school.

COMPONENT I: ASSESSMENT OF STUDENT PROGRESS

The criteria in this component examine whether the District has implemented an assessment system that uses appropriate instruments, conducted according to the specified timelines and covering the appropriate content areas to determine instructional needs of students for the program areas listed below:

Department of Education Findings:

Documentation review and interviews indicated that many community services are frequently accessed and that Seven Hills Charter School coordinates its tobacco, alcohol, other drug, and violence prevention programs with community wide efforts. Outreach is frequent, with efforts coordinated by community representatives on the advisory board and through the community resource director. For example, the school recently became involved with Worcester Promise. In addition there is regular communication with mental health and social service agencies, the prevention center, U. Mass Medical Center (which provided a middle school tobacco prevention curriculum), and other medical providers. Although the community agencies do not participate in the surveys, they are aware of the SDFSCA programs and there is a concerted effort to collaborate.

Department of Education Findings:

According to interviews and the documentation provided, the SDFSCA Advisory Council meetings are held regularly, are well attended and very active. It is presently composed of school faculty and administrators, community representatives, medical and health professional and parents. It is resource rich and diverse in the strengths that each member brings. There have been several attempts, though unsuccessful to date, to include students and the police. At least one student representative and a law enforcement officer should be on the advisory council. The SDFSCA places primary importance on the role of a community Advisory Council in every stage of development and evaluation of a Violence and Substance Abuse Prevention Program. Seven Hill's active Advisory Council reflects positively on the following criteria (SDF 2B, 5, 6, 7, and 8) that require it.

Department of Education Findings:

Documentation review and interviews indicated that prevention education is part of a developmental health education program, and embedded in the code of conduct, core values. There are specific substance abuse and violence prevention programs such as the curriculum, peer mediation, TIMEOUT, conflict resolution, mentoring, and model citizen program which are supported through the overall school values. These programs are supported by the SFDSCA grant as well as other grants such as HPF and community grants. The advisory council makes great efforts in accessing new resources through other programs/projects including a pilot tobacco curriculum of the 6th and 8th grade. The school should consider submitting applications for other competitive grants (i.e. teen dating violence). There is evidence of a coordinated Safe and Drug Free Schools program across the school that is enriched and informed by regional and state resources.

SDF 2B	There is evidence of an ongoing role for the Advisory Council in program planning and implementation through a comprehensive set of activities.
	Rating: Commendable District Response Required: No

Department of Education Findings:

Interviews and clear documentation of the meetings indicate that the Health Advisory Council (HAC) is extremely active and ambitious in its endeavors and is clearly involved in every stage of the grant process. The members are instrumental in assisting the health coordinator in creatively strategizing effective program planning. The members participate in reviewing the data gathered from the needs assessments, the local YRBS, precede/proceed data and incident reports. Priorities for the program goals and the measurable objectives are garnered from the analysis of the objective data and identified with the assistance of the HAC. The HAC reviews assessment tools and curricula and makes specific recommendations to the Parent Advisory Council and administration about specific program assessment, and implementation. Program evaluation by the HAC occurs; however, a more formalized plan for process, outcome and impact evaluation should be in place.

SDF 3	There are program activities implemented to promote the involvement of parents. [Title IV Sec. 4116 (a)(1)]
	Rating: Implemented District Response Required: No

Department of Education Findings:

Documentation review and interviews indicated that there is strong parent involvement in the HAC, but not directly with the SDFSCA school sponsored activities. Efforts to provide prevention education to the parents have been made, but have not yet been successful. However, of particular note is that parental involvement is an integral part of the school life, as evidenced by strong leadership through the parent guild, the PAC, and HAC. Seven Hills views parents as partners in their children’s education. A new initiative is being attempted to include parents in the TIMEOUT conflict resolution program and will be kicked off at the spring picnic. Parents are alerted to new initiatives through “the Common” and newsletters. Parents participated in customer satisfaction surveys, but have not been part of focus groups or surveys sponsored through the SFDSCA grant. Based on interviews, parents are aware of SFDSCA efforts through conversations with their children.

COMPONENT IV: CURRICULUM AND INSTRUCTION

The criteria also examine if the district has provided for coordination across the following program areas:

Department of Education Findings:

Documentation review indicated that Seven Hills completed an objective analysis based on data from the YRBS, incident reports, community data, surveys for staff and a synthesis of the precede/proceed model. Data is collected, reviewed and analyzed; however, the extent of data from the community for these students can also be augmented. Identification of strengths and gaps in services and program planning/implementation can be strengthened. The advisory council, however, does consistently review program information during the year, and adds needed components when indicated. For instance, a program on sexual harassment was recently delivered to the Junior Academy, based on a review of current need.

Department of Education Findings:

Measurable objectives have clearly been derived from the objective analysis. After thorough review of the data, the HAC clearly articulated goals, objectives and activities to address needs. The identified prevention program includes curriculum and adjunct programs as well as core values (wisdom, courage, compassion, hope, respect, responsibility and integrity) embedded in the school philosophy of cooperation. In addition to school wide prevention curriculum and programs (conflict resolution and peer mediation), there are other programs and strategies (TIMEOUT, FASST team counseling and careers, etc.) that rely on individual teachers and the support of guidance staff to incorporate into the daily plan.

	Rating: Implemented District Response Required: No

Department of Education Findings:

This standard refers to “research-based” or “science-based” programs that have been evaluated according to strict criteria and have demonstrated statistical evidence of effectiveness. The district may, however, show its program’s effectiveness by presenting its own evidence that the program resulted in a measurable, statistically significant difference in outcomes. According to the documentation provided, programs were identified to respond to particular priorities and were based on research, but have not as of yet provided evidence of effectiveness, (i.e. the middle school tobacco program was only recently introduced and research based evaluative data has not yet been compiled). In addition, the health curricula currently used in the health class has been reported as outdated. The district may choose alternative curricula or impose a more strict evaluative process to determine effectiveness in reducing the drug use, violence or disruptive behavior. A list of CDC approved research based effective curriculum is available for the district’s review.

SDF 8	Each recipient evaluates its programs periodically to assess its progress toward achieving its goals and objectives, and uses its evaluation results to refine, improve and strengthen its programs, and to refine its goals and objectives as appropriate.

Department of Education Findings:

Documentation review and interviews indicated that the advisory council informally evaluates its progress toward achieving its goals. Students’ knowledge is tested. Formal and formative evaluation of the district’s progress towards achieving SFDSCA’s identified goals and objectives should be addressed. Evaluation results do not include specific program outcome and impact evaluation in order to refine specific program objectives and improve particular program activities. This area should be strengthened.

APPENDIX I:
SCHOOL DISTRICT PROFILE INFORMATION

The information which is provided in this Appendix was drawn from data supplied by the school district. The Department's visiting team carefully reviewed this data as part of its planning for the onsite visit and in preparing this Coordinated Program Review Report. The information is periodically updated by the school district and is available in an evercurrent form on the Department's Internet web site at <www.doe.mass.edu>.

School and District Profiles

Definitions of Terms

School and District Profiles make important information about the Commonwealth's public schools available to all interested citizens. The array of information presented in the Profiles provides one snapshot of the educational picture in communities across the state. This information can be used in conjunction with firsthand observations and discussions by parents, educators, policy-makers, and any other interested parties to inform decision-making and ultimately improve the education of all Massachusetts students. While only the school district profile information is included with this Coordinated Program Review Report, information regarding individual school profile information is available on the Department's Web site at <http://profiles.doe.mass.edu/>. The following is an explanation of information presented in both the district and individual school Profiles. All data are submitted by schools and districts to the Department of Education. Data that are collected at the district level only are not included in the School Profiles, and are indicated below with an asterisk.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Grades/Schools*: indicates the number and grade range of elementary, middle/junior high and high schools in the district, as well as the total number of schools in the district and the grade range of the school system. An elementary range beginning with "N" indicates the district has pre-kindergarten. A high school range ending in "13" or "14" indicates the district has a post-graduate program.

Programs*:

- Inter-district Choice: indicates whether students from other districts may enroll in the district through the state school choice program, which is voluntary and on a space-available basis.
- Intra-district Choice: indicates whether the district has a school choice program within the school district for students who live in the district.
- Early Childhood Education: indicates whether the district provides no-cost early childhood (preschool) education to three and/or four year-old children.
- Kindergarten Starting Age: indicates the age as of a particular date at which children are eligible to begin kindergarten.
- Vocational Education: indicates whether the district operates a Chapter 74 approved vocational education program.
- Transitional Bilingual Education (TBE): indicates whether the district operates a TBE program. Under Massachusetts law, a district must provide a TBE program in a particular language if there are 20 or more limited English proficient students in that particular language group enrolled in the district. Limited English proficient students are students whose first language is not English and who cannot perform ordinary classwork in English.
- METCO: indicates whether the district participates in the state METCO program, which promotes voluntary desegregation by enrolling minority students from Boston and Springfield in suburban schools.

Member(s) of Regional District(s)*: for local school districts, indicates the name(s) of any academic and/or vocational regional district(s) of which the local school district is a member. For regional school districts, indicates the names of member local school districts. A regional school district provides educational services to more than one town.

Technology: indicates the number of students for every one computer and the percent of classrooms with Internet access. Data are 1998-99 data; "DNR" appears for schools and districts which did not yet report data.

Student Test Results

Massachusetts Comprehensive Assessment System (MCAS): The Massachusetts Comprehensive Assessment System is the Commonwealth's statewide assessment program for public schools. MCAS measures the performance of students, schools and districts on the academic learning standards contained in the Massachusetts Curriculum Frameworks, fulfilling requirements of the Massachusetts Education Reform Law of 1993. In May 1999, students in grades four, eight and ten took the MCAS tests in English Language Arts, Mathematics, and Science & Technology.

Additionally, an MCAS test in History and Social Science was administered for the first time in 1999 to students in grade 8.

Results from the first two administrations of the MCAS tests provide a clear picture of statewide performance. Based on these results, we can identify areas of strength and weakness statewide. The focus at the state and local levels should be on identifying programs that will maintain the progress in areas where performance is strong and eliminate weak performance in the other areas. With results from two MCAS administrations, the temptation is to focus on changes from 1998 to 1999. However, it takes more than two years of results to identify trends in performance. Over time, results from the MCAS tests will allow students, schools, and districts to measure their progress in achieving the challenging state standards. Single-year improvements or declines in performance should not be over-interpreted.

Results on the MCAS tests are reported as the percentage of students attaining each performance level for each subject area and grade tested. Results are shown for all students and are also disaggregated by student group. The performance levels describe student performance in relation to the state standards. There are four performance levels: Advanced, Proficient, Needs Improvement, and Failing. Students' performance level classification is based on their total scaled score for each test completed. The scaled score range is 200-280. Students who were absent during the testing period received a minimum score of 200 for each content area test not attempted; this score is counted in computing average scores for schools and districts. Students included in scores for 1999 include tested students and students absent without a medical excuse. Students not included in scores for 1999 were reported as either medically documented absent or other not tested. Further information can be found in The Massachusetts Comprehensive Assessment System: Guide to Interpreting the 1999 MCAS Reports for Schools and Districts, which is available on the Internet at the Department of Education's web site at www.doe.mass.edu/mcas. Percentages may not add to 100 due to rounding.

To ensure the confidentiality of individual student results, performance data (performance level percentages and scaled score) are not reported for a particular student population/grade/subject if the number of students tested plus the number of students absent is fewer than 10. Results for schools and districts that do not have one or more of the grades tested are shown as "NA" for those grades.

For additional information, please refer to reports of statewide results and guides to interpreting the reports, which are available on the Internet at the Department of Education's web site at www.doe.mass.edu/mcas.

Iowa Grade 3 Reading Test: indicates the percent of third-graders at each performance level on the reading comprehension section of the test, from Spring 1999. Results are not included for schools or districts for which fewer than six students participated.

SAT: indicates the average scores on the math and verbal sections of the SAT I, administered by the College Board, and the percentage of students taking the test, for the classes of 1995 and 1999. All data are for public school students only. Results are not included for schools or districts for which fewer than 10 students participated. For students who took the SAT I more than once, their latest score is used by the College Board in determining school and district average scores. Beginning with 1996 scores, the College Board recentered the score scale of the SAT I to reestablish the original mean score of 500. The 1995 scores shown in the Profiles have been recentered to be comparable to the 1999 scores. All data were obtained from the College Board.

Advanced Placement: indicates the number of exams taken, the number and percent of exams that scored 3 or higher (possible score range is from 1 to 5), and the number and percentage of students in the class of 1997 who participated (students may take more than one exam). Data are included for all AP exams taken by any students in the class of 1997 who took an AP exam in their senior year. District and statewide data are for public school students, and national data are for public and non-public school students. Results are not included for schools or districts for which fewer than 10 students participated.

Enrollment and Staff

Enrollment by Grade: indicates the enrollment for grades kindergarten through 12 for the 1994-95 and 1998-99 school years.

Race/Ethnicity: indicates the percent of enrollment by race/ethnicity for the 1998-99 school year. The reporting categories are those used by the U.S. Bureau of the Census.

Selected Populations: indicates the percent of enrollment represented by students in special education programs*, students who are limited English proficient, and students eligible to receive free or reduced price lunch*. Data are for the 1998-99 school year.

Children Attending Public Schools*: indicates the percent of school-age children in a city or town attending public schools, for the 1994-95 and 1997-98 school years.

Staff (FTE)*: indicates the number of students per teacher for the 1998-99 school year. This figure is calculated by dividing the regular education instructional staff by the total student enrollment. The staff figure is in full-time equivalents (FTE), and the student figure is a headcount. The number of students per teacher reported here does not represent average class size and is usually lower than that found in most typical classes.

Finance

Per Pupil Expenditures*: are calculated by dividing a district's operating costs by its average pupil membership. Operating costs include expenditures for administration, instruction, pupil services, transportation, plant maintenance, and fixed charges. These costs do not include capital outlay and long-term interest on school debt. Average pupil membership includes students who receive services in the district's schools, as well as students receiving home or hospital instruction. Data for regular education, special education, bilingual education and vocational education students are provided in addition to the total for all day programs, for the 1993-94 and 1997-98 school years.

Teacher Salary*: indicates the minimum and maximum teacher salaries available, for the 1994-95 and 1998-99 school years.

Foundation Budget Spending Comparison*: The education reform act established a foundation budget for each school district. This budget represents the minimum level of spending needed to provide an adequate education for the district's students. The foundation budget is made up of 19 separate categories. The chart shows the district's actual spending in each category for the 1997-98 school year as a percentage of the district's foundation budget. If the percentage exceeds 100%, the district spent more in the category than suggested by the foundation budget. If the percentage is less than 100%, the district spent less. Significant variations between local spending and the foundation budget, or between local spending and the statewide averages, should be reviewed closely. In some cases, the differences may be due to unique circumstances and needs within the district. In other cases, the differences may suggest potential areas for review and improvement.
