MASSACHUSETTS DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

COORDINATED PROGRAM REVIEW REPORT

Walpole Public School

OVERVIEW OF COORDINATED PROGRAM REVIEW PROCEDURES

As one part of its Accountability System, the Department of Education oversees local compliance with education requirements through the Coordinated Program Review System (CPR). All reviews include the following selected requirements:

- special education under the federal Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA-2004), and M.G.L. Chapter 71B (Chapter 766 of the Acts of 1972). Note that until regulations under IDEA-2004 are final, the Department has the responsibility of enforcing regulations under IDEA-1997 that do not conflict with IDEA-2004; therefore both IDEA-1997 regulations and sections of IDEA-2004 are cited in the special education standards.
- federal civil rights requirements under Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Equal Educational Opportunities Act of 1974, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, together with related state requirements under M.G.L. Chapter 76, Section 5 (Chapter 622 of the Acts of 1971) and other Massachusetts General Laws.
- targeted standards from the Board of Education's Physical Restraint regulations (603 CMR 46.00).
- targeted standards from the Board of Education's Student Learning Time regulations (603 CMR 27.00).
- targeted standards from the federal McKinney-Vento Homeless Education Assistance Improvements Act of 2001 (included in the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001).
- provisions of M.G.L. c. 71A, the state law that governs the provision of education to limited English proficient students. Note that due to the voters' approval in 2002 of an initiative petition entitled "Question 2," M.G.L. c. 71A has been significantly amended. Under the amended Chapter 71A, limited English proficient students, now referred to as "English learners," must be provided instruction in sheltered English immersion or two-way bilingual programs unless they have received a waiver. As a result of this change in the law, the Department's Coordinated Program Review standards under Chapter 71A were significantly revised for the 2003-2004 school year. All districts that enroll limited English proficient students will be reviewed using these updated standards during the 2005-2006 school year.

Additional program areas reviewed during the Coordinated Program Review visits in selected districts may include:

- Title I of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act of 1965, including other related grants funded by the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001;
- Safe and Drug-Free Schools and Communities Act;
- Career and Technical Education requirements under the federal Perkins Vocational and Technical Education Act and M.G.L. c. 74;
- Innovative assistance programs funded under Title V of the No Child Left Behind Act; and
- Nutrition Programs and Services.

The Department's 2005-2006 schedule of Coordinated Program Reviews is posted on the Department's web site at <<<http://www.doe.mass.edu/pqa/review/cpr/schedule.html>>>. The statewide six-year Program Review cycle together with the Department's Mid-cycle Special Education follow-up monitoring schedule is posted at <<<http://www.doe.mass.edu/pqa/review/cpr/6yrcycle.html>>>.

Coordinated Program Review Elements

Team: Depending upon the size of a school district and the number of program areas to be reviewed, a team of two to eight Department staff members, together with any necessary outside consultants, conducts a Coordinated Program Review over two to ten days in a school district or charter school.

Scope: Each school district and charter school in the Commonwealth is scheduled to receive a Coordinated Program Review every six years and a mid-cycle special education follow-up visit three years after the Coordinated Program Review; about seventy school districts and charter schools are scheduled for Coordinated Program Reviews in 2005-2006.

Content: The Program Review criteria encompass the required elements for the specific program areas. In the case of special education, the elements selected for the 2005-2006 reviews contain, at a minimum, those required by the federal Office for Special Education Programs (OSEP) and revised requirements included under IDEA-2004 as described in the Department's Special Education Advisories. Additionally, the 2005-2006 reviews incorporate state special education requirements as adopted by the Board of Education and effective on July 1, 2005. The Program Review compliance criteria selected in all of the regulated program areas are those that are most closely aligned with the goals of the Massachusetts Education Reform Act of 1993 and intended to promote high standards and achievement for all students.

Report: The Department's report is based on a review of written documentation and data regarding the operation of the district's programs, together with information gathered through the following Department program review methods:

- Interviews of administrative, instructional, and support staff across all grade levels.
- Interviews of parent advisory council (PAC) representatives and other interviews as requested by persons from the general public.
- Student record reviews in the program areas of special education, English learner education (c. 71A), Career and Technical Education, and Section 504 (student accommodation plans). A representative sample of student records is selected by the Department. Student records are examined by the onsite team using standard Department student record review procedures to make determinations regarding the implementation of procedural and programmatic requirements. Parents of students with disabilities whose files are selected for the record review, as well as the parents of an equal number of other students with disabilities, are sent a survey that solicits information regarding their experiences with the district's implementation of special education programs, related services and procedural requirements; parents of students with limited English proficiency whose files are selected for the record review are sent a survey of their experiences with the district's implementation of the English learner education program and related procedural requirements.

- Classroom and facilities observation. The onsite team visits a sample of instructional classrooms and other school facilities used in the delivery of programs and services to determine general levels of compliance with program requirements.

Collaborative programs and services. Where the district is a member of a collaborative approved by the Department of Education and is a site for programs or services operated by the collaborative, interviews, student record review, and classroom and facility observations are conducted for the collaborative.

Ratings. The onsite team gives a rating for each compliance criterion it reviews; those ratings are “Commendable,” “Implemented” (meaning at least substantially implemented), “Implementation in Progress,” “Partially Implemented,” “Not Implemented” (meaning at least substantially not implemented), and “Not Applicable.” “Implementation in Progress” is used for criteria containing new legal requirements and means that the district has implemented any old requirements contained in the criterion and is either training staff or beginning to implement the new requirements in such a way that the onsite team anticipates that the new requirements will be implemented by the end of the school year.

Findings. The onsite team includes a finding for each criterion that it rates “Commendable,” “Partially Implemented,” or “Not Implemented,” explaining the basis for the rating. It may also include findings for other criteria.

Executive Summary. Organized by the report components described on the next page, the Executive Summary summarizes the report’s major findings for each program reviewed Response: Where criteria are not implemented fully, the local district or charter school must propose corrective actions to bring those areas into compliance with the respective statutes or regulations. These corrective actions are subject to the Department’s review and approval. School districts and charter schools must demonstrate effective resolution of noncompliance identified by the Department as soon as possible but in no case later than one year from the issuance of the Department’s Final Program Review Report.

The Department believes that the Coordinated Program Review process is a positive experience and that the Final Report is a helpful planning document for the continued development and improvement of programs and services in each school district, charter school, and educational collaborative.

REPORT INTRODUCTION

A six-member Massachusetts Department of Education team visited the Walpole Public School District during the week of March 27, 2006 to evaluate the implementation of selected criteria in the program areas of Special Education, Civil Rights, English Language Learners, and Title I. The team appreciated the opportunity to interview staff and parents, to observe classroom facilities and to review the programs underway in the district. The onsite team would like to commend the following areas that were brought to its attention and that it believes have a significant and positive impact on the delivery of educational services for students enrolled in the Walpole Public Schools. These areas are as follows:

The Walpole School District has a committed and knowledgeable staff who advocate for students in the district. Regular and special education staff work collaboratively as the district has instituted several co-taught full inclusion programs at the elementary levels. Principals implement the instructional support intervention system (ISIS), which proactively addresses the needs of the students. Principals are instrumental in promoting the inclusion efforts at each school and work diligently to create a team atmosphere within the schools. Staff report that they receive extensive support from administrators, principals, the special education director and the superintendent.

The district participates in METCO and houses many programs for The Education Collaborative, whose staff and students are actively involved in the life of the schools. The district has developed a wide continuum of programs and services, including in-district programs, alternative programs, partnership programs and collaboratives that allow Teams to make recommendations for less restrictive settings. There is a strong effort to develop alternative education programs that meet the educational needs of students who are at risk of dropping out of school. The district instituted a Buddies program, which creates opportunities for students to assist and integrate in special needs classrooms.

The district's pre-school program is a strong and well-managed program. All related services are integrated into the student's instructional program. There is a great deal of collaboration among the teachers, related service providers and the preschool coordinator. The coordinator provides strong support and leadership in the program and is instituting new practices that meet regulatory compliance.

The district has very strong parent participation at its Individualized Educational Plan (IEP) Team meetings. Parents are actively involved in their children's educational programming.

The district has developed protocols and practices to ensure the provision of timely, safe and equal access to education for homeless students. The district ensures that homeless students are enrolled immediately and have full access to all of the available educational and community services that they and their families require.

The district maintains a high level of communication and consultation with the Neglected or Delinquent facility located within its boundaries, which includes supervision and professional development for the assigned Title I staff person.

Some of the commendations noted above are repeated within the body of the Department's report under the appropriate compliance criteria.

The Department is submitting the following Coordinated Program Review Report containing findings made pursuant to this onsite visit. In preparing this report, the team reviewed extensive written documentation regarding the operation of the district's programs, together with information gathered by means of following Department program review methods:

- Interviews of 19 administrative staff.
- Interviews of 76 teaching and support services staff across all levels.
- Interviews of eight parent advisory council (PAC) representatives and three parents of Title I students.
- Interviews of six persons from the general public.
- Student record reviews: A sample of 52 student records was selected by the Department. Student records were first examined by local staff, whose findings were then verified by the onsite team using standard Department of Education student record review procedures to make determinations regarding the implementation of procedural and programmatic requirements.
- Parent surveys: Seventy parents of students with disabilities were sent surveys that solicited information regarding their experiences with the district's implementation of special education programs, related services and procedural requirements. Thirty-two of these parent surveys were returned to the Department of Education for review by the onsite team.
- Observation of classrooms and other facilities. A sample of 38 instructional classrooms and other school facilities used in the delivery of programs and services was visited to determine general levels of compliance with program requirements.

The report includes findings in the program areas reviewed organized under nine components . These components are listed in the executive summary on the following pages. The findings in each program area explain the "ratings, "determinations by the team about the implementation status of the criteria reviewed. The ratings indicate those criteria that were found by the team to be substantially "Implemented" or implemented in a "Commendable" manner. (Refer to the "Definition of Terms" section of the report.) Where criteria were found to be either "Partially Implemented" or "Not Implemented," the district or charter school must propose to the Department corrective actions to bring those areas into compliance with the controlling statute or regulation. In some instances the team may have rated a requirement as "Implemented" but made a specific comment on the district's implementation methods that also may require response from the district or charter school.

Districts are expected to incorporate the corrective action into their district and school improvement plans, including their professional development plans.

COORDINATED PROGRAM REVIEW REPORT

EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

Walpole Public School District

The following summary organized under each of the nine overarching Coordinated Program Review components synthesizes the findings for criteria included in the Coordinated Program Review as they respond to essential questions that the Department has formulated for each of the components of the report. Note that a more detailed discussion of the onsite team's findings, together with the specific legal standards for each program area included in this review, follows this summary.

Component I: Assessment of Students

Has the district implemented an assessment system that uses appropriate instruments, is conducted according to the specified timelines, and covers the appropriate content areas to determine instructional needs of students?

The district appropriately interprets assessments for students referred for special education evaluations. Evaluations are not consistently conducted and Team meetings are not always held within regulatory timelines. IEPs are not provided to parents immediately following the development of the IEP at the Team meetings. The district does not write partial IEPs or implement IEP elements agreed upon at the Team meetings if the Team does not fully develop the IEP. Reports of assessments are not consistently made available to parents two days prior to an initial or reevaluation meeting. While evaluators summarize their findings, they do not always make recommendations within their written reports. Students are not always reevaluated prior to dismissal from related services.

All students with disabilities take the MCAS and other district-wide assessments; however, parent surveys indicate that student participation in MCAS is not always discussed at Team meetings. The district does not identify the learning strands and standards on the IEP, which is required for alternate assessments.

While the district provides many opportunities and assists special needs students with future planning, the district does not document these activities in the IEPs or on transition plans. While the district has extensive transition planning for students with severe special needs, transition planning for students with moderate to mild disabilities is not documented. In addition, information regarding the transfer of parental rights is not sent to students turning 18 years of age.

While the district has designated Team chairpersons, it is the perception of staff members and parents that they do not have the authority to commit resources for out-of-district placements, assistive technology, home-based services and extended school year services. This is often the situation at annual review Team meetings.

Parents do not receive reports on the student's progress towards reaching the goals set forth in the IEP at least as often as parents are informed of the progress of non-disabled students. Further, progress reports do not address whether the student's progress is sufficient to enable the student to achieve the goals by the end of the year.

For English Learner Education (ELE), students are not consistently assessed to determine

English language proficiency.

Component II: Student Identification and Program Placement

Has the district followed procedures for student identification and placement into the program according to the criteria specified in law and/or regulations?

The district conducts extensive child find efforts and is in the process of changing non-compliant practices at the pre-school level. Historically, children were not always assessed prior to turning three years of age and were not placed in programs upon their third birthday if determined eligible. The district has initiated new procedures to ensure timely IEP development, placement, and implementation for eligible preschool children when they turn three years of age. The district implements a kindergarten screening process, which ensures that all kindergarten age students are formally screened to identify those who may have disabilities.

The district has developed very effective policies and procedures for the identification of homeless students. The procedures include the collaboration of district staff with community agencies to ensure that all students are identified, immediately enrolled, and have a full and equal opportunity to succeed in the school. The homeless education liaison ensures that homeless families, children and youth receive all educational and community services for which they are eligible.

The district does not consistently develop the required elements of students' IEPs. The district does not differentiate between accommodations and specially designed instruction, and does not complete Non-Participation Justification statements explaining why the student is being removed from the regular education setting. In addition, Teams do not use extended evaluations in an appropriate manner.

The district has developed a wide continuum of programs and services, including in-district programs, alternative programs, partnership programs and collaboratives that allow Teams to make recommendations for less restrictive settings.

The district is in the initial stages of developing a program for limited English proficient (LEP) students. While the district has procedures for the identification and assessment of English proficiency, these procedures are not yet implemented. The district has not developed a process and established criteria for exiting students from the ELE program, and the district has not established a sheltered English immersion (SEI) program. Staff are not appropriately licensed or trained to provide SEI. LEP students do not receive English language development instruction with sufficient frequency to become proficient in English within a reasonable period of time. The district is beginning to assess some LEP students annually for acquisition of English language skills; however, its current instructional practices do not meet the requirements of the law.

The district has followed all procedures for student identification and placement into the Title I program according to the criteria specified in the regulations.

Component III: Parental Involvement

Has the district ensured that parents are notified in the appropriate language and are involved in decisions regarding their children's programs and services? Where appropriate, does the district involve community representatives in shaping programs?

The district takes great efforts to ensure that parents attend and participate in the Team process. While the district is currently undergoing a change in practice at the preschool level, parent surveys indicate that the district does not routinely send out the consent to evaluate form within five days of receiving a referral at the preschool and elementary levels. While required notices and IEPs are provided in both English and the primary language of the home, progress reports are not always translated for parents whose native language is not English. In addition, the district has not translated codes of conduct, student/parent handbooks, general announcements and notices of extracurricular activities.

The district has established a district-wide Parent Advisory Council (PAC) that is supported by the district and has by-laws. However, the PAC is not involved in evaluating the special education programs.

Parents of homeless students are informed of the educational and related opportunities available to their children and are provided with meaningful opportunities to participate in their children's education. The district provides notice to the public of the educational rights of homeless children.

The district is in compliance for most of the parental involvement requirements for Title I. Although adequate training is provided to parents, individual schools lack written parental involvement policies that meet federal requirements. Parents should be involved in writing and evaluating both school and district parental involvement policies. The district does send out the school report cards, but has not advised parents of the right to request and receive information about teacher qualifications. School-parent compacts have been developed and are used in all Title I programs.

Component IV: Curriculum and Instruction

Does the district hold all students to high expectations and standards? Are programs designed to maximize student performance and students' participation in the general curriculum? Is curriculum throughout the district's programs based on the Massachusetts Curriculum Frameworks? Has the district provided for coordination across program areas?

The district holds all special education students to high expectations and standards. Programs are designed to maximize student performance and participation in the general curriculum. The curriculum is based on the Massachusetts Curriculum Frameworks.

The district provides oversight for students placed in out-of-district programs. Students enrolled in private schools at private expense have access to the district's special education services.

The district has a wide variety of assistive technology; however, assistive technology needs are not always discussed at Team meetings. In addition, interviews indicate that assistive technology is not always maintained properly.

The district has a school schedule that ensures students will be in school for 180 days and that all students will receive the required amount of structured learning time. Access to extracurricular activities is open to all students regardless of race, sex, color, religion, national origin, sexual orientation, disability or homelessness; however, the lack of translated notices and information may be a barrier to LEP students' participation.

The district is currently developing processes and procedures for LEP students. At this time the district does not provide SEI instruction. In addition, the district does not annually assess LEP students, or have exit criteria and monitoring processes in place for former limited English proficient (FLEP) students. The district does not provide adequate notice to parents of LEP students when the students are placed in the ELE program. The notices of placement in ELE and progress reports are not written in the parent's native language.

The Title I program is coordinated with the district's other programs, and the program's curriculum and instruction utilizes research-based materials that align with the state frameworks.

Component V: Student Support Services

Has the district ensured that all students have equal access to programs and services? Does the district provide support to students who need it?

The district has ensured that all disabled students have equal access to programs and services. The district implements all procedural safeguards for disabled students who are suspended for over ten days in a school year. The district is commended for routinely conducting functional behavior assessments for students who have reached the sixth to seventh day of suspension, rather than waiting until the tenth day of a student's suspension. Disabled students have equal access to participate in educational, nonacademic, extracurricular and ancillary programs. While the district ensures that a full array of related services are available, the district does not routinely assess, document, or provide adaptive physical education to eligible students.

District handbooks contain outdated references and do not include the procedures for accepting, investigating and resolving complaints alleging discrimination. All handbooks omit current regulations regarding the appropriate procedures for the discipline of students with special needs and students with Section 504 Accommodation Plans. With the exception of the high school, handbooks do not contain due process procedures.

Information and counseling on general curricular and occupational/vocational opportunities are provided to all students. This information, however, is not provided to LEP students or their parents in the language of their home. Counseling and counseling materials are free from bias and stereotypes; however, guidance and counseling services are not provided to LEP students in their primary language.

The district has developed clear policies and procedures to ensure that homeless students are not stigmatized or segregated on the basis of their homelessness and have full access to all programs and activities in the district.

The district communicates with the appropriate private schools regarding Title I services. In addition, the district maintains excellent communication and consultation with the Neglected or Delinquent facility located within its boundaries and the required contract has been established.

Component VI: Faculty, Staff and Administration

Does the district maintain certified staff in the specific program areas, provide supervision of aides and tutors, and provide ongoing professional development? Are program leadership and oversight effective? Are the district's personnel procedures non-discriminatory and does it seek to recruit employees from all groups?

In general, the district maintains licensed staff in the special education program; however, speech language providers do not hold both licensure from the Department of Education and state certification.

Documents and interviews indicate that the district does not provide in-service training for all locally hired and contracted transportation providers on the needs of the special education students they transport. The district has not ensured that staff involved in the co-taught inclusion classes have received training in methods of collaboration among teachers, paraprofessionals and teacher assistants to accommodate diverse learning styles of all students in the regular education classroom.

School district employment practices are free from discrimination on the basis of race, sex, color, national origin, sexual orientation, age, religion and disability. The district's employee recruitment is aimed at reaching all groups, including members of linguistic, ethnic, and racial minorities, females and males, and persons with disabilities. The district provides in-service training for all school personnel at least annually regarding civil rights responsibilities, including the prevention of discrimination and harassment on the basis of students' race, color, sex, religion, national origin and sexual orientation, as well as the appropriate methods for responding to discrimination and harassment in the school setting.

The district has provided physical restraint training to all staff. Each building has several staff members who have had extensive restraint and de-escalation training. All schools within the district have designated crisis plans. Interviews indicate that staff are knowledgeable regarding who can perform restraints. The district has certified restraint trainers within the district to ensure the ongoing training of new staff, in addition to the annual training. Annual restraint training is conducted routinely within the first week of school.

Not all ELE staff are appropriately licensed to provide English language development instruction. None of the general education and content area teachers who are instructing LEP students are appropriately licensed or trained to provide SEI.

Although the district reports that all Title I staff are "highly qualified" as required by the No Child Left Behind Act, the role of Title I personnel needs to be more clearly delineated according to the definitions in NCLB. Staff members are provided with strong leadership and professional development.

Component VII: School Facilities

Does the district maintain accessible facilities that are conducive to learning, facilitate integration, and provide equal opportunity for students to achieve?

In general, the district's instructional spaces for special education students are comparable to the spaces used for regular education instruction. However, Old Post Road School has related services (OT, PT) on a stage. At the high school, a language inclusion classroom (formally the old home economics classroom) is held in a space that is too small, and does not have windows or ventilation.

While LEP students are provided with facilities that are equivalent to the facilities for regular education students, the program lacks materials and resources for teachers and students.

There are no Title I criteria for school facilities, although the facilities observed were deemed to be conducive to learning.

Component VIII: Program Plan and Evaluation

Does the district evaluate its programs in accordance with statutory and regulatory requirements? Does it use the results of its evaluations to improve programs? Do parents have opportunities for input on program needs, program implementation, and program evaluation and improvement?

The district annually evaluates its special education program and services. Evaluation reports include data analysis of the drop out, retention, and graduation rates for students with disabilities.

While the district has procedures that identify department chairpersons as responsible for reviewing all educational materials for simplistic and demeaning generalizations, lacking intellectual merit on the basis of race, color, sex, religion, national origin and sexual orientation, interviews indicate that reviews are not routinely conducted.

The district reports to the Department of Education annually on the required information regarding its LEP student population. As the district is in the initial stages and has not fully developed all components of its ELE program, the district has not evaluated the program's effectiveness.

Component IX: Record keeping

Does the district maintain required records and documentation for each program area? Are entitlement grants appropriately designed, amended, and locally monitored? Does the district use federal grant funds in accordance with statutory fund-use rules, including "supplement not supplant" provisions where applicable? Does the district meet applicable maintenance of effort requirements?

The district maintains appropriate procedures to ensure that an accurate and unduplicated special education child count is provided to the Department of Education. The child count represents students with current, accepted IEPs who are provided with, at a minimum, direct special education and/or related services by the district or by an out-of-district provider through a contract with the district. The entitlement grant is designed, monitored and amended by appropriate local administrators and in accordance with procedures and timelines required by the Department of Education.

All required information relative to homeless students is maintained appropriately in the students' records.

The district has not developed a set of records for LEP students that meet the requirements of state law.

The district meets maintenance of effort and comparability requirements and keeps all required Title I records.

DEFINITION OF TERMS FOR COMPLIANCE RATINGS
FOR THE RATING OF EACH COMPLIANCE CRITERION

Commendable	Any requirement or aspect of a requirement implemented in an exemplary manner significantly beyond the requirements of law or regulation.
Implemented	The requirement is substantially met in all important aspects.
Implementation in Progress	The requirement includes one or more new federal special education (IDEA-2004) requirements that became effective during the 2005-2006 academic year. The district or charter school has substantially implemented any pre-July 1, 2005 requirements also included under the criterion and is currently engaged in staff training and/or is beginning implementation practices for new requirements which the Department's onsite team anticipates will result in substantial compliance by the end of the 2005-2006 school year.
Partially Implemented	The requirement, in one or several important aspects, is not entirely met.
Not Implemented	The requirement is totally or substantially not met.
Not Applicable	The requirement does not apply to the school district or charter school.

Several key areas of compliance with federal special education requirements and one area under civil rights requirements have been highlighted in SHADED TEXT in the Program Review Criteria. These shaded areas are being monitored under the Massachusetts Special Education State Performance Plan and/or reported on in the state's Annual Performance Report, both mandated by the Office of Special Education Programs of the U.S. Department of Education. Some of these highlighted areas may also be areas that the Department of Education is closely monitoring because of concerns identified through a statewide special education steering committee needs assessment. School districts are reminded that although CPR activities may focus in certain key areas, the Department has the legal obligation under its general supervisory responsibilities to review any or all special education requirements as it deems necessary.

All students with disabilities take part in MCAS and other district-wide assessments. A review of student records indicates that MCAS testing accommodations, especially in the area of oral reading, do not always correspond with accommodations that the student receives during routine instruction. IEPs for students who are currently enrolled in the second grade, but whose IEPs extend into the third grade for the following year, do not contain MCAS accommodations. The district does not identify the learning strands and standards on the IEP, as required for students who take part in the alternate assessment. Parent surveys indicate that the students' participation in MCAS is not always discussed at Team meetings.

While staff interviews indicate that the district has created many opportunities for students and assists special needs students with transition planning, the district does not document these activities in IEPs or on transition plans. Parent survey results indicate that transition planning is not discussed annually for all special needs students ages 15-22. While the district developed an extensive Transition Services form and transition-planning chart, these templates are used for only those students with severe needs. IEPs do not routinely contain transition goals, and IEP vision statements do not contain all required elements for students at the high school level. IEPs for students with moderate to mild disabilities do not support students' vision statements. In addition, many vision statements for students 15 years of age and older are vision statements of the parents or the Team, and do not include vision statements from students.

Record review, however, indicates that the procedure is not always followed. While the district provides transfer of rights notification to the parents, the district does not provide written notification to students turning 18. Transfer of rights notification is not sent in a timely manner. The district does not always obtain consent from the student who has turned 18 years of age to continue in the special education program. Department of Education Findings:

A review of records indicates that not all IEPs include specially designed instruction. Additionally, the district does not address age specific considerations in the IEP. At the high school level, annual goals do not include related objectives and benchmarks. Social, emotional, behavioral, and counseling goals, objectives, and benchmarks are not measurable. IEP service delivery grids do not reflect the need for extended school year services, especially related services. Service delivery grids do not routinely identify the service provider and list “staff,” which does not delineate between a special education teacher, a general education teacher, or a paraprofessional. In addition, students who require instructional aides are not identified within the service delivery grid, causing confusion regarding the frequency, duration, and type of service for which the instructional aide is responsible. Parent surveys, interviews, and student records indicate that related services and supports needed by the student are not always included in the IEP, especially in the area of related services during the extended school year.

Based on the finding in SE 8 regarding Team chairpersons needing to check with a higher administrative authority before committing resources and based on parent surveys, it is unclear how the district ensures that whatever services are set out in the IEP will actually be provided and that the IEP will not be changed at a higher administrative level within the district.

Student record reviews and interviews indicate that the district does not consistently develop the required content of IEPs. Specifically, the following items were noted by the onsite team: 1) the development of measurable goals and objectives for students who receive counseling; 2) differentiating between accommodations versus specially designed instruction; and 3) non-participation justification statements are not fully developed and do not expand on why the student is being removed from the regular education setting.

Department of Education Findings:

While the district is currently undergoing a change in practice, record reviews and interviews indicate that the district has misused extended evaluations, particularly at the pre-school level. Extended evaluations were conducted prior to determining eligibility and utilized to acquire additional time to complete assessments. IEPs were not developed immediately upon receipt of evaluation results, and in many instances extended evaluations exceeded eight weeks.

At other levels, student record reviews indicate that IEP Teams do not always make a determination of eligibility, as required by this regulation, following the conclusion of an evaluation. In some cases the Team defers the eligibility determination until further testing can be completed as part of an “extended evaluation.”

Department of Education Findings:

The district has developed a wide continuum of programs and services, including in-district programs, alternative programs, partnership programs and collaboratives that allow Teams to make recommendations for less restrictive settings. However, the on-site team's observations, review of records and interviews reveal that special education students placed in inclusion/co- taught classrooms at the Fisher School and at Old Post Road (OPR) are not always fully included and are routinely pulled out for substantially separate instruction without parent consent.

Parents report that they are not notified when services are delayed due to a lack of personnel and the district does not propose alternative methods and actions until personnel issues are resolved.

Student records and interviews indicate that during times when the district must reconvene the Team to finish developing the IEP, the district does not provide a partial IEP to the parents. As a result, services may be delayed for several months before the Team proposes a fully developed IEP.

APPENDIX:
SCHOOL DISTRICT PROFILE INFORMATION

The information that is provided in this Appendix was drawn from data supplied by the school district or charter school. The Department's visiting team carefully reviewed this data as part of its planning for the onsite visit and in preparing this Coordinated Program Review Report. This district-wide information, together with more detailed school building data, is periodically updated by the school district and is available in an ever current form on the Department's internet web site at <http://profiles.doe.mass.edu/> .

School District Profile Information

Introduction

The Massachusetts Department of Education collects a variety of data from schools and districts in the state. Some of the information collected is published in the School and District Profiles. In addition to profiles, users can also view and download school & district directories and data reports. The data reports provide particular data for all schools & districts and can be sorted and/or exported. A "profile" is a snapshot of the data for a specific school/district or charter school.

Organization Types

Approved Special Education Schools	Responsible for providing an education for students with disabilities. A school district (LEA) may place a student in an out-of-state program if it believes that such program is the most appropriate for the student.
Charter School	Public schools that are created by parents, teachers, businesses, and community leaders and have the freedom to organize their activities around a core mission, curriculum, or teaching method. Their autonomy gives them the freedom to create their own budgets and to hire and fire teachers and staff.
Collaborative	Collaboratives are formed through an agreement among two or more school committees to provide education for their member school systems. Agreements must be filed with the Commissioner of DOE. A Board representative of each member school committee manages them.
Private School	A non-publicly funded school that provides educational services directly to attending students.
Public School	Public schools are administered by a Public School District, and provide educational services directly to attending students.
Public School Districts	An administrative unit responsible for managing primary and secondary school services within a defined geographical boundary.

About the Data

Data in Profiles is displayed in four sections:

Directory Information

Enrollment/Indicators

Test Results

Finance - district level only

Directory Information

Districts view, add, update and delete their own directory information to ensure that the information is as up-to-date and accurate as possible.

DOE Code:

The eight-digit DOE Code following the school or district name is assigned by the Massachusetts Department of Education to every organization listed in the Directory Profiles, including every district and school in the Commonwealth. For districts and schools, the first four digits represent the District Code and the last four digits represent the School Code. Thus the DOE code "02660505" stands for "0266" (Sharon Public Schools) + "0505" (Sharon High).

Prior to the 2001 school year, DOE codes contained six digits (three for the district and three for the school.) With the exception of some special needs schools, the eight-digit codes are the same as the six-digit codes with one zero added before the district code and another zero added before the school code. Thus, Sharon High's old six-digit DOE code was 266505.

Please Note: The DOE Code is not the same as the Institution codes assigned by the College board for SAT and AP results or the NCES code assigned to Massachusetts schools by the U.S. Department of Education.

Grades/Schools:

For districts this section displays the number and grade range of elementary, middle/junior high and high schools in the district, as well as the total number of schools in the district and the grade range of the school system. An elementary range beginning with "PK" indicates the district has pre-kindergarten. Kindergarten starting age indicates the age as of a particular date at which children are eligible to begin kindergarten.

Relationships: (for districts only)

- Membership - Union: A "school union" is a group of school systems that are administered by one superintendent.
- Grade Tuition Agreement: A town may tuition all their students in a particular grade span into another school system.
- Membership - Academic Regional: A regional school district provides educational services to more than one town. For a city/town district, this lists the name(s) of any academic regional district(s) of which the local school district is a member. For an academic regional district, this lists the member cities and towns.
- Membership - Vocational Regional: A regional school district provides educational services to more than one town. For a city/town district, this lists the name(s) of any vocational regional district(s) of which the local school district is a member. For a vocational regional district, this lists the member cities and towns.
- Membership - Independent Vocational: An independent vocational district is administered by a board of trustees. For a city/town district, this lists the name(s) of any independent vocational district(s) of which the local school district is a member. For an independent vocational district, this lists the member cities and towns. Tuition is charged to out-of-town residents.
- Membership - County Agricultural: A county agricultural district is administered by a board of trustees. For a city/town district, this lists the name(s) of any county agricultural district(s) of which the local school district is a member. For a county agricultural district, this lists the member cities and towns.
- Membership - Collaboratives: Educational Collaboratives are formed through an agreement among two or more school committees to provide educational programs or services for their member school systems. For a district, this lists the name(s) of any collaboratives of which the district is a member. For a collaborative this lists the member districts.
- Private Schools located in this city/town: Lists the private schools located in the city/town.

Organization Characteristics

- Chapter 74 Approved Vocational Technical Program: Programs that meet the definition of vocational technical education contained in Massachusetts General Law Chapter 74, Section 1 and are approved by the Department of Education pursuant to c. 74 and the Vocational Technical Education Regulations 603 CMR 4.00 are known as "Chapter-74 approved programs".

- Charter School Type:

Commonwealth- A public school that is managed by a board of trustees and operates independently of any school committee under a five-year charter granted by the Board of Education. It has the freedom to organize around a core mission, curriculum, theme, and/or teaching method and to control its own budget and hire (and fire) teachers and staff. In return for this freedom, a charter school must attract students and produce positive results within five years or its charter will not be renewed.

Horace Mann- Operates under the same set of rules as described above, with the following exceptions. First, a Horace Mann charter school must have its charter approved by the local school committee and the local teacher's union in addition to the Board of Education. Second, to the extent provided by their charters, Horace Mann charter schools may be exempt from certain provisions in local collective bargaining agreements. Third, employees of a Horace Mann charter school remain members of the local collective bargaining unit; continue to accrue seniority; and receive, at a minimum, the salary and benefits established by the local collective bargaining agreement.

- District Operating Status:

Non-Operating - A town that does not directly operate a school district. The town belongs to a regional school district or pays tuition for their students to attend another school district.

Operating - A city/town that operates its own local school district. It may operate as its own district at some grades, and belong to a regional district or tuition out its students at other grades.

- District Title I Status: A district that receives federal Title I funding.

- District Type:

Institutional School - State institutional schools that are administered by the DOE.

County Agricultural - Agricultural school district that is administered by a board of trustees.

Independent Public - This category includes Commonwealth Charter Schools, Horace Mann Charter Schools and the Massachusetts Academy of Mathematics and Science.
