COORDINATED PROGRAM REVIEW REPORT

Haverhill Public Schools

SCOPE OF COORDINATED PROGRAM REVIEWS

As one part of its accountability system, the Department of Education oversees local compliance with education requirements through the Coordinated Program Review (CPR). All reviews cover selected requirements in the following areas:

Special Education

- selected requirements from the federal Individuals with Disabilities Education Act (IDEA-2004), M.G.L. c. 71B (Chapter 766 of the Acts of 1972), and the Massachusetts Board of Education's Special Education regulations (603 CMR 28.00), as amended effective July 1, 2005. Federal requirements selected for the 2006-2007 reviews include, among others, the requirements specified by the federal Office for Special Education Programs (OSEP) and the requirements revised by IDEA-2004 and described in the Department's Special Education Advisories. Please be aware that based on the recent issuance of the federal special education regulations, which took effect October 13, 2006, we will be modifying the special education instrument in the near future and will publish any changes at that time.

Civil Rights Methods of Administration and Other General Education Requirements (MOA)

- selected federal civil rights requirements under Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, the Equal Educational Opportunities Act of 1974, Title IX of the Education Amendments of 1972, Section 504 of the Rehabilitation Act of 1973, and Title II of the Americans with Disabilities Act of 1990, together with selected state requirements under M.G.L. c. 76, Section 5 (Chapter 622 of the Acts of 1971) and other Massachusetts General Laws.
- selected requirements from the Massachusetts Board of Education's Physical Restraint regulations (603 CMR 46.00).
- selected requirements from the Massachusetts Board of Education's Student Learning Time regulations (603 CMR 27.00).

English Learner Education (ELE) in Public Schools

- selected requirements from M.G.L. c. 71A, the state law that governs the provision of education to limited English proficient students, and 603 CMR 14.00, as well as the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001 and Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964. All districts that enroll limited English proficient students will be reviewed using a combination of updated standards and a self-assessment instrument overseen by the Department's Office of Language Acquisition and Academic Achievement (OLAAA) during the 2006-2007 school year. Districts and charter schools will receive under separate cover an appendix to the English Learner Education Information Package that will include a request for information regarding ELE programs and staff qualifications.

Some reviews also cover selected requirements in:

Career/Vocational Technical Education (CVTE)

- career/vocational technical education programs under the federal Carl D. Perkins Vocational and Technical Education Act of 1998 and M.G.L. c. 74.

Districts scheduled for Title I program monitoring during the 2006-2007 school year will receive separate notice detailing the review process that will apply to the district. The methods of Title I program monitoring that will be used this year will vary, district to district, depending on the size of the district's Title I grant award, the nature of the Title I program being implemented (targeted assistance or schoolwide), and the district's 2006 AYP accountability status. All reviews will include monitoring for compliance with Title I fund use requirements (fund allocation and student eligibility rules, supplement not supplant and comparability requirements, any required set-asides for school choice transportation, supplemental services and professional development).

Significant aspects of this year's Title I monitoring will be accomplished through desk audit of available data and documents. Districts and charter schools identified for improvement or corrective action will be required to submit, for review, their written plans to improve student performance. In general, districts and charter schools that are in identified for improvement or corrective action status, for students in the aggregate or for student subgroups, and all districts with grant awards of $300,000 or more, will have an onsite visit during the 2006-2007 school year as part of the monitoring process. Visits will be for the dual purposes of determining compliance and providing technical assistance, as needed, to improve program quality.

The Department's 2006-2007 schedule of Coordinated Program Reviews is posted on the Department's web site at <<<http://www.doe.mass.edu/pqa/review/cpr/schedule.html>>>. The statewide six-year Program Review cycle together with the Department's Mid-cycle Special Education follow-up monitoring schedule is posted at <<<http://www.doe.mass.edu/pqa/review/cpr/6yrcycle.html>>>.

COORDINATED PROGRAM REVIEW ELEMENTS

Team: Depending upon the size of a school district and the number of programs to be reviewed, a team of two to eight Department staff members, together with any necessary outside consultants, conducts a Coordinated Program Review over two to ten days in a school district or charter school.

Timing: Each school district and charter school in the Commonwealth is scheduled to receive a Coordinated Program Review every six years and a mid-cycle special education follow-up visit three years after the Coordinated Program Review; about sixty-five school districts and charter schools are scheduled for Coordinated Program Reviews in 2006-2007. The Department's 2006-2007 schedule of Coordinated Program Reviews is posted on the Department's web site at <<<http://www.doe.mass.edu/pqa/review/cpr/schedule.html>>>. The statewide six-year Program Review cycle together with the Department's Mid-cycle follow-up monitoring schedule is posted at <<<http://www.doe.mass.edu/pqa/review/cpr/6yrcycle.html>>>.

Criteria: The Program Review criteria for each program encompass the requirements that have been selected for review. The requirements selected for review in all of the regulated programs are those that are most closely aligned with the goals of the Massachusetts Education Reform Act of 1993 to promote student achievement and high standards for all students.

Methods: Methods used in reviewing programs include:

- Review of documentation about the operation of the charter school or district's programs.
- Interviews of administrative, instructional, and support staff across all grade levels.
- Interviews of parent advisory council (PAC) representatives and other interviews as requested by other parents or members of the general public.
- Review of student records for special education (and for student accommodation plans under Section 504), English learner education, and career/vocational technical education. The Department selects a representative sample of student records for the onsite team to review, using standard Department procedures, to determine whether procedural and programmatic requirements have been implemented.
- Surveys of parents of students with disabilities and parents of English learners. Parents of students with disabilities whose files are selected for the record review, as well as the parents of an equal number of other students with disabilities, are sent a survey that solicits information regarding their experiences with the district's implementation of special education programs, related services, and procedural requirements; parents of English learners whose files are selected for the record review are sent a survey of their experiences with the district's implementation of the English learner education program and related procedural requirements.
- Observation of classrooms and other facilities. The onsite team visits a sample of classrooms and other school facilities used in the delivery of programs and services to determine general levels of compliance with program requirements.

Note on collaborative programs and services. Where the district is a member of a collaborative approved by the Department of Education and is a site for programs or services operated by the collaborative, interviews, student record review, and observation of classrooms are conducted for the collaborative.

Report: Preparation:

At the end of the onsite visit, the onsite team will hold an informal exit meeting to summarize its preliminary findings for the Superintendent or Charter School Leader and anyone else he or she chooses. Within approximately 45 business days of the onsite visit, the Onsite Chairperson will forward to the Superintendent or Charter School Leader (and Collaborative Director where applicable) a Draft Report containing specific findings from the Program Review. The district (and collaborative) will then have 10 business days to review the report for factual accuracy before the publication of a Final Report. The Final Report will be issued within approximately 60 business days of the conclusion of the onsite visit and posted on the Department's website at <<http://www.doe.mass.edu/pqa/review/cpr/reports/>>.

Content:

Ratings. The onsite team gives a rating for each compliance criterion it reviews; those ratings are “Commendable,” “Implemented” (meaning at least substantially implemented), “Implementation in Progress,” “Partially Implemented,” “Not Implemented” (meaning at least substantially not implemented), and “Not Applicable or Not Rated.” “Implementation in Progress,” used for criteria containing new legal requirements, means that the district has implemented any old requirements contained in the criterion and is training staff or beginning to implement the new requirements in such a way that the onsite team anticipates that the new requirements will be implemented by the end of the school year.

Findings. The onsite team includes a finding for each criterion that it rates “Commendable,” “Partially Implemented,” or “Not Implemented,” explaining the basis for the rating. It may also include findings for other criteria.

Response: Where criteria are found “Partially Implemented” or “Not Implemented”, the district or charter school must propose corrective action to bring those areas into compliance with the relevant statutes and regulations. This corrective action plan will be due to the Department within 20 business days after the issuance of the Final Report and is subject to the Department’s review and approval.

As the school or district is implementing the approved corrective action, Department staff will provide ongoing technical assistance. To assist in the implementation of corrective action related to the area of special education, schools and districts may apply for limited special education technical assistance funds. School districts and charter schools must demonstrate effective resolution of noncompliance identified by the Department as soon as possible but in no case later than one year from the issuance of the Department’s Final Program Review Report.

The Department believes that the Coordinated Program Review is a positive experience and that the Final Report is helpful in planning for the continued improvement of programs and services in each school district, charter school, and educational collaborative.

REPORT INTRODUCTION

An eight-member Massachusetts Department of Education team visited Haverhill Public Schools during the week of April 9, 2007 to evaluate the implementation of selected criteria in the program areas of special education, civil rights and other related general education requirements, and English learner education. The team appreciated the opportunity to interview staff and parents, to observe classroom facilities and to review the programs underway in the district. The onsite team would like to commend the following areas that were brought to its attention and that it believes have a significant and positive impact on the delivery of educational services for students enrolled in the Haverhill Public Schools. These areas are as follows:

The district demonstrates a strong proactive commitment to creating and developing in-district options to allow students, ages three through twenty-one, to receive their education in-district, fully participating in their home community and for providing support services to families and schools through collaborations with community agencies, local organizations and businesses. The district has developed an extensive continuum of services and programs in special education that can follow a student from early childhood to beyond the high school setting and spans the wide range of educational and therapeutic needs of students who require academic, behavioral/social-emotional, physical and medical interventions.

The building-based administrative and teaching personnel strive to provide all students with achievement and success across the curriculum through an inclusive learning environment that addresses the diverse and changing needs of the student population. There is ongoing collaboration, networking and planning among the building-based personnel to build their capacity to offer students a curriculum and programs that responds to all aspects of a student's life in the classroom and as members of the school community.

The district demonstrates excellent practices in the oversight and monitoring of the IEP process for students placed in out-of-district placements. There are ongoing discussions with the district and the student's out-of-district placement regarding the possible timelines for the engagement of transition activities to bring students back into the district's programs and regarding the types of services and supports necessary for a student to return to the district. For secondary level students, outreach is made either in the home community or into the community where the student is placed, to secure a work-study/internship so that the student can explore and experience in an area that fulfills his/her goals and occupational/vocational interests and/or goals.

The community is an integral part of the schools and the administration has networked effectively to provide wraparound services, supports and educational programming to parents and families. The Pregnancy and Parenting Teen Program at the high school, provides students with supports, resources, counseling and linkages to community agencies to assist the male and female students through the management of the process of balancing the pregnancy, their education and their social-emotional needs.

The Department is submitting the following Coordinated Program Review Report containing findings made pursuant to this onsite visit. In preparing this report, the team reviewed extensive written documentation regarding the operation of the district's programs, together with information gathered by means of following Department program review methods:

- Interviews of 19 administrative staff.
- Interviews of 92 teaching and support services staff across all levels.
- Interviews of one parent advisory council (PAC) representative.
- Interviews as requested by persons from the general public.
- Student record reviews: A sample of 70 student records was selected by the Department. Student records were first examined by local staff, whose findings were then verified by the onsite team using standard Department of Education student record review procedures to make determinations regarding the implementation of procedural and programmatic requirements.
- Surveys of parents of students with disabilities: 56 parents of students with disabilities were sent surveys that solicited information about their experiences with the district's implementation of special education programs, related services and procedural requirements. Fifteen of these parent surveys were returned to the Department of Education for review.
- Surveys of parents of ELE students: 18 parents of ELE students were sent surveys that solicited information about their experiences with the district's implementation of English learner education programs, services, and procedural requirements. Two of these parent surveys were returned to the Department of Education for review.
- Observation of classrooms and other facilities: A sample of 38 instructional classrooms and other school facilities used in the delivery of programs and services was visited to determine general levels of compliance with program requirements.

The report includes findings in the program areas reviewed organized under nine components. These components are:

- Component I: Assessment of Students
- Component II: Student Identification and Program Placement
- Component III: Parent and Community Involvement
- Component IV: Curriculum and Instruction
- Component V: Student Support Services
- Component VI: Faculty, Staff and Administration
- Component VII: School Facilities
- Component VIII: Program Evaluation
- Component IX: Recordkeeping and Fund Use

The findings in each program area explain the "ratings," determinations by the team about the implementation status of the criteria reviewed. The ratings indicate those criteria that were found by the team to be substantially "Implemented" or implemented in a "Commendable" manner. (Refer to the "Definition of Terms" section of the report.) Where criteria were found to be either "Partially Implemented" or "Not Implemented," the district or charter school must propose to the Department corrective actions to bring those areas into compliance with the controlling statute or regulation. In some instances the team may have rated a requirement as "Implemented" but made a specific comment on the district's implementation methods that also may require response from the district or charter school.

Districts are expected to incorporate the corrective action into their district and school improvement plans, including their professional development plans.

DEFINITION OF COMPLIANCE RATINGS

Commendable	Any requirement or aspect of a requirement implemented in an exemplary manner significantly beyond the requirements of law or regulation.
Implemented	The requirement is substantially met in all important aspects.
Implementation in Progress	The requirement includes one or more new federal special education requirements that became effective with the federal regulations on October 13, 2006. The district or charter school has implemented any previous requirements included in the criterion and is currently engaged in staff training and/or is beginning implementation practices for new requirements which the Department's onsite team anticipates will result in substantial compliance by the end of the 2006-2007 school year.
Partially Implemented	The requirement, in one or several important aspects, is not entirely met.
Not Implemented	The requirement is totally or substantially not met.
Not Applicable or Not Rated	The requirement does not apply to the school district or charter school.

Several special education criteria or portions of special education criteria, as well as a portion of a civil rights criterion, have been bolded in the report below. These bolded areas are being monitored under the Massachusetts Special Education State Performance Plan and/or reported on in the state's Annual Performance Report, both mandated by the Office of Special Education Programs of the U.S. Department of Education. Some of these bolded areas may also be areas that the Massachusetts Department of Education is closely monitoring because of concerns identified through a needs assessment by the statewide special education steering committee.

School districts are reminded that although CPRs may focus in certain key areas, the Department has the legal obligation under its general supervisory responsibilities to review any or all special education requirements as it deems necessary.

Department of Education Findings:

The review of student records and interviews indicated that the district is not always conducting comprehensive initial evaluations at the preschool level in all areas of the suspected disability. In some cases, evaluations are proposed and completed in a single area of concern and does not include an assessment to evaluate all developmental areas to determine eligibility. This practice has resulted in some children being reassessed within the year in additional areas of need that were not addressed in the initial evaluation. In addition, the written report of the observation did not always contain specific information that described the child’s performance, interactions and behaviors during the observation.

The review of student records showed, in most cases, that psychological and related service area assessments conducted at the elementary through high school level, were comprehensive. In most instances, regular education teachers’ classroom histories were well written, detailed and specific to the students’ current classroom performance in the academic, social-emotional/ behavioral and communication skill area. However, the review of student records and interviews indicated that the selection of assessments to evaluate skills regarding academic achievement for initial and re-evaluations from the elementary to high school level did not always adequately address the specific areas of a student’s presenting educational concerns and suspected disability. Evaluators tended to use a standard battery of assessments for initial evaluations rather than considering a range of assessments that related to the suspected area(s) of disability. In the area of re-evaluations, interviews indicated that the student’s progress is reviewed but this information is not always used to guide in the selection of appropriate assessment instruments for the re-evaluation. There is a tendency to re-administer the assessments that were previously identified and completed for the student’s initial evaluation, rather than reviewing existing evidence of achievement from a variety of sources, including but not limited to in-class written work and teacher observations to further evaluate the areas of concern.

Interviews indicated that there are a variety of assessments available in the district to be utilized for purposes of academic achievement. However, it is not evident that all special education personnel responsible for conducting the above assessments are aware of how to access and to administer the assessment, when necessary and appropriate.

The review of student records and interviews indicated that for reevaluations, there is a practice where some related service personnel recommend that parents sign a consent to waive the conducting of assessment in that related service area without providing a justification for the waiving of the above assessment for the individual student.

Department of Education Findings:

Based on the student record review and interviews, transition planning for students enrolled in out-of-district programs is effectively integrated into the IEP with regard to the individual student's future goals, recommended course of study and current involvement in work-study or vocational internships. However, for students on IEPs included in mainstream general education classes and in-district programs, transition planning is not always as developed and integrated into the IEP. Transition planning for students turning 16 is not always specific in addressing how the student's IEP services are linked to the individual's post-school goals, including but not limited to post-secondary education, vocational training and employment options. The review of student records and interviews indicated that for students with disabilities in grades 9-12, IEP Teams are not always making a direct linkage through coursework and/or work-study opportunities to the individual student's transition plan and postsecondary school goals.

Based upon the student record review and interviews, there is always a person who has the authority to commit the district's resources in attendance at the IEP Team meeting. Students were invited and attended their IEP meetings. Parents are integral to the Team process and multiple attempts are made to encourage and ensure full parent participation at Team meetings. However, interviews and the student record review showed that preschool classroom teachers and regular education teachers from the elementary to the high school level are not always in attendance at IEP meetings. There is a practice for the regular education teacher to deliver the classroom report regarding the student's performance, participation and progress. However, the teacher is not always remaining at the Team meeting to provide input into the development of the goals, accommodations and modifications.

The student record review and interviews showed that the IEP Teams at the elementary and middle school level and for students in out-of-district placements, reconvene to address or document the steps taken when a student is failing to make progress towards the annual IEP goals. However, at the high school level, the student record review and interviews indicated that there are no building-based procedures established regarding the steps to take when a student is failing to make progress towards the annual IEP goals and/or exhibiting recurring issues in maintaining classroom/school-wide behavior, achieving passing grades or demonstrating consistent school attendance. The IEP Teams at the high school typically waited until the annual review meeting to address issues impacting the student's progress through the IEP process. At the high school level, the summary of a student's academic achievement as cited in #3 of this criterion, was not always consistently documented in the student's record.

On the service delivery grid, IEP Teams were not always determining the specific number of sessions and the amount of time designated for each session that the student is recommended to receive during the school’s weekly cycle, but rather indicating that the frequency and duration of the service would be “as needed.”

Interviews at the high school level indicated that students are receiving counseling services and supports for behavioral and/or social-emotional issues from related service personnel. However, the review of student records showed that the service delivery grids for students in full and partial inclusion placements were not reflecting the actual counseling and intervention support services that were being provided to students. Department of Education Findings:

The review of student records, documentation and interviews indicated that the district has imbued teaching personnel with a strong basis of knowledge regarding the provision of an inclusive learning environment for students with disabilities. However, at the middle school level, interviews indicated there are some students placed in substantially separate classrooms whose integration into the general education nonacademic offerings such as specials and lunch has not been fully considered through the IEP process. In addition, interviews indicated that in a number of cases, IEP Teams are proposing pull-out services for students in mainstream classes and not always fully considering the provision of the IEP accommodations and modifications within the classroom setting,

*Interviews indicated that regular education teachers, especially at the high school level, are not always informed of their specific responsibilities regarding a student's IEP goals, services and accommodations, or Section 504 plan. Effective oversight is not always provided at the high school level regarding the ongoing implementation of the student's agreed to IEP within the general education curriculum. Department of Education Findings:

Based upon interviews and student record review, the district demonstrates excellent practices in the oversight and monitoring of the IEP process and procedures for students placed in out-of-district placements. The monitoring plans, progress reports and IEPs are detailed, specific to the student's area of educational and/or therapeutic need and rate of progress. For students at the secondary level, the out-of-district coordinator works with the student and the IEP Team to design an occupational/vocational component that addresses the student's interests and post school goals. Outreach is made either in the home community or into the community where the student is placed, to secure a work-study/internship that the student can explore and experience in an area that fulfills his/her goals and occupational/vocational interests and/or goals. There is documented evidence of the district's continual attention to the student's out-of-district services and programs and to the possible timelines for the engagement of transition activities to bring students back into the district's programs.

Department of Education Findings:

The review of documentation and interviews indicates that the district had relied on “school secretaries”, staff who are not qualified, to determine whether or not new students ought to be assessed for initial placement into the language program. The district has “revamped” its “intake” processes at the k-8 level, which ensures that all students (native and non-native speakers) be given a home language survey as the first tier in the identification process.

The high school still relies on “school secretaries”, staff who are not qualified, to determine whether or not new students ought to be assessed. The high school is not part of the centralized enrollment process that is now being implemented at the k-8 level.

Student rosters show lack of consistency in the program placement. There is no articulation of what criteria is used to warrant placement in the following “proficiency” levels: HI, SEI, MSS.
