

Collaborative/Co-Teaching Model

Participants have the opportunity to earn 67.5 PDPs or to purchase 3 graduate credits.

COURSE INFORMATION & COMMITMENTS

Hampshire Educational Collaborative (HEC) has been awarded the contract to teach the Collaborative/Co-Teaching Model course. The course is available through Fitchburg State College.

The course is designed to be a three-credit, graduate level course, and is offered at no cost to participants. Upon course completion, participants will receive 67.5 PDP's, and will have the option to purchase graduate credit at a discounted rate through FSC.

The Collaborative/Co-Teaching Model course is a fifteen week course designed to provide educators with a strong foundation for planning, implementing and maintaining successful collaborative/co-teaching programs. The course will provide educators with competencies that enable them to work effectively to design and implement collaborative co-teaching approaches, and to facilitate the delivery of research-based instruction to students with disabilities

It also provides the opportunity to participate in rigorous pedagogical study and a supportive online professional community.

As a three credit graduate level course, participants are expected to dedicate between 4-7 hours per week to complete course work and interact online with other course participants and professors.

Individuals who complete both courses may have the opportunity to participate in a summer leadership seminar.
