

Many farm animals eat hay, which is made by cutting and drying plants such as ryegrass and timothy grass. Scientists analyzed the composition of hay after it was cut and again after it was dried.

The amounts of which common biological elements would have decreased the most as the hay dried?

- A. sulfur and calcium
- B. phosphorus and zinc
- C. oxygen and hydrogen
- D. nitrogen and chlorine