

7

Lithops are multicellular organisms found in sandy soil in deserts. They have large, central vacuoles in their cells that store water.

Which of the following best classifies lithops?

- A. They are bacteria because they store water.
- B. They are animals because they are multicellular.
- C. They are fungi because they are found in sandy soil.
- D. They are plants because they have large, central vacuoles.